A special year with Y. Kawada Sensei, author of 'Essential Shiatsu' | English |
Accredited as postgraduate education - higher vocational education.
A profound study of the eight extra meridians, the history thereof, and application in practice and diagnosis.

Begins 1st August 2020

Yuichi Kawada - Sensei - (accredited by the Ministry of Health in Japan)

Sensei Kawada is a distinguished teacher of Oriental medicinal knowledge and its history. He is one of the most experienced Japanese teachers in Europe.

Yuichi Kawada was born in Japan and started studying Shiatsu at the age of eight years old. His father studied and practiced Shiatsu for sixty years in Japan. Sensei Kawada followed his example and studied at different schools in Japan among which the Nippon Shiatsu School. Sensei Kawada is qualified by the Japanese ministry of health and is the most experienced Japanese teacher in Europe of profound Oriental medical knowledge and its history. His additional interests include the I-Ching and 9-star-ki, which he ties strongly to Shiatsu.

Through his experience in working with shiatsu, he discovered the relationship between the twelve regular meridians and the eight Curious Vessels. Based on this he developed eight Do-In exercises for stretching the Curious Vessels. His experiments with these eight extra meridians are remarkably effective.

Yuichi Kawada is founder and director of Yoseido Shiatsu, the three-year vocational education in Shiatsu Therapy in Belgium. In 2002 his book was published, "Essential Shiatsu", which treats the eight Curious vessels. In June 2008, the book was published in German. Since 1998 Yuichi Kawada has been teaching level 4 at the NSKS. Level 4 and separate days of that year are offered by the NSKS (Dutch School for Classical Shiatsu) as postgraduate education to students (with sufficient existing knowledge), therapists and teachers.

The year with Sensei Kawada is now also accredited as postgraduate education for Shiatsu therapists, acupuncturists and TCM students and therapists. It is considered a valuable and important addition to the history and depth of effective diagnostics and treatment. Participants are initiated into knowledge and practice not found in other European education because of Yuichi Kawada's lifelong study starting with his father's influence as a practitioner and deeply rich knowledge and experience of the roots of the Oriental approach in preventive treatment and teaching.

Contents

Is taught by the Japanese Sensei Kawada and treats the eight "Curious" Vessels. The special workings of these meridians (also known as wonder meridians) are studied extensively.
The techniques taught in the previous years are brought together coherently and fluently. The student is expected to be well able to work with and manipulate Ki.

Practical aspect

- The anatomical course and workings of the eight Curious Vessels.
- Localising the Curious Vessels and their entrance and connecting points.
- Indication of the acute-, chronic- and source points. Combinations of acute and chronic points.
- Manipulations and stretching of the Curious Vessels.

Theoretical aspect

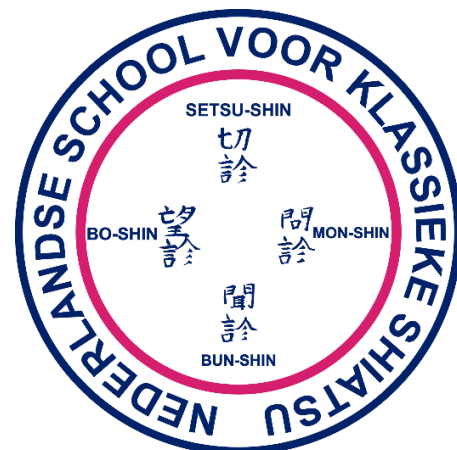

- The connection between the twelve meridians and the eight Curious Vessels
- The relation between Shiatsu and the I-Ching
- Treatment methods for specific symptoms in relation to the Curious Vessels
- Extended course material (bilingual English and Dutch) will be distributed to course members
